Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

1. Claims 1-32 are presented for examination.
2. The title of the invention is neither descriptive nor precise. A new title is required which should include, using twenty words or fewer, claimed features that differentiate the invention from the Prior Art. The title should reflect the gist of or the improvement of the present invention.
3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 1-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hsu et al. [U.S. Patent No. 6,295,058].

5. Hsu et al. anticipated (e.g., see col. 4, lines 1-14) the invention substantially as claimed. Taking both claim 28 as exemplary claims, the reference disclosed a system for updating electronic mail, the system comprising: a user (630) and a recipient (last 3 lines of the abstract, col. 4 (lines 1-14)) each having access to an electronic mail system; a textual template (610, col. 4, line 14); recipient information for the textual template (e.g., see col. 4, lines 13-14); and an address book (inherent in a network mail server 340, col. 2, lines 14-15, col. 4, lines 38-39) associated with the electronic mail system wherein the address book contains the recipient information.

6. As to claim 29, Hsu et al. further anticipated a screen display (e.g., see 480, col. 8, line 36).

7. As to claim 30, Hsu et al. further anticipated a prompt on the screen display for assisting the user (e.g., see col. 8, lines 32-34).

8. As to claim 31, Hsu et al. further anticipated means for electronically mailing the template to the recipient (e.g., see the abstract).

9. As to claim 32, Hsu et al. further anticipated a template with information fields (e.g., see col. 6, lines 58-59).

10. As to claims 1-27, they are similar to the claims 28-32 with the additional feature of: a) creating a textual template (e.g., see 605 to 620 of Fig. 6, the abstract, col. 3, lines 12-23, col. 6, line 25, to col. 7, line 8); b) editing the textual template (e.g., see col. 8 (line 47), the abstract, 615-635 of Fig. 6); c) customizing specific information provided by the recipient based on user specified requirements (the design template contains one or more slots into which the user may simply drag and drop any desired text, video, or audio data, see the abstract, 615 to 635 of Fig. 6, 1005 to 1025 of Fig. 10); d) updating the electronic database with the edited textual template (e.g., 645 of Fig. 6, col. 6, line 25, to col. 7, line 8); and e) building the textual template with information fields (e.g., slot of a template, col. 7, line 8-9).

Art Unit: 2153

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The references are cited in the Form PTO-892 for the applicant's review.

A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 3 (three) months and 0 (zero) days from the mail date of this letter. Failure to respond within the period for response will result in ABANDONMENT of the application (see 35 U.S.C 133, M.P.E.P 710.02, 710.02(b)).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Krisna Lim whose telephone number is 571-272-3956. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Wednesday and Friday from 7:30 AM to 4:00 PM.
